Now your heart pounds at a rate matched only by your car's RPMs. This year, you're determined to break every rule to win it all. You're going to collect all 775 Dare Devil coins on the planet and own the best cars in the world, and the only law that can stop you is the law of gravity.

YOUR FIRST TEST DRIVE

Before you start spinning your wheels, take a second or two to peruse some of the standard features in Top Gear Dare Devil.

FREE ROAM

The free roam option is the best way to check out a new city. You have 300 seconds to search for hidden areas and jumps.

OPTIONS

Change the game's background music, adjust the audio volume or activate your DUALSHOCK™2 analog controller feedback on the Options Menu.

STUFF

View the credits or see the animated movie sequences in the Stuff Menu. Here you can review the cinematic sequences for the cities that you have opened in the Top Gear Dare Devil's Single Player mode.

SAVE

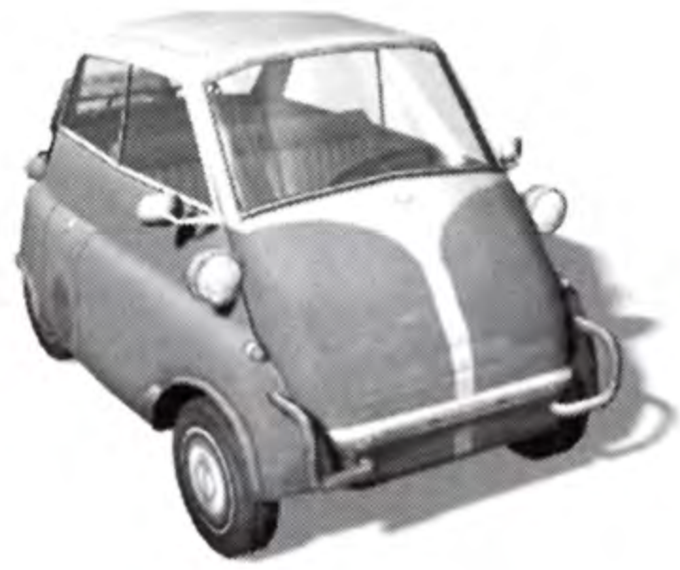
CARS

There are twelve cars in Top Gear Dare Devil. Collecting all the coins in a stage adds a car to your garage.

POD (URBAN MINI CLASS)

Designed in Germany during the late 1950s, the pod has exceptionally slow acceleration, but it offers some of the best handling for navigating narrow streets.



55% Max. Speed
50% Accel
70% Handling

THE GEEZE (URBAN MINI CLASS)

It's not exactly an Italian stallion, but the practical Geeze does have a bit more handling, top speed and acceleration than the Pod. It was first built in Europe during the 1950s.

57.5% Max. Speed
52.5% Accel
75% Handling

P-NUT (URBAN MINI CLASS)

Built in England from the 1970s until 2000, the classic P-Nut has a top speed and acceleration that edges the Pod and Geeze.

60%	Max. Speed
55%	Accel
75%	Handling

FROGGY (URBAN MINI CLASS)

Originally built during the war years in France, this urban mini car features headlights similar to its amphibian namesake. It also has incredible handling.

62.5%	Max. Speed
57.5%	Accel
80%	Handling

SUPER GENIUS (STREET CLASS)

The Super Genius rolled off a German assembly line in 2000. Despite its flashy looks, improved top speed and acceleration, it doesn't handle as well as the older European urban mini cars.

65%	Max. Speed
60%	Accel
75%	Handling

TURTLE (STREET CLASS)

Part of the Dare Devil Street class, this popular German coupe tops the Super Genius in the categories of top speed, acceleration and handling, but only by the thinnest margins.

RICOCHET (STREET CLASS)

This amazing German coupe is considerably faster than the Super Genius and Turtle, but what it gains in speed it gives up in handling—especially in the tight spots.

FANG (POWER CLASS)

The first of the Power class vehicles, the Fang is exceptionally fast but it has a tendency to struggle with hairpin corners at high speeds. It's a winner in the hands of a skilled driver.

ROAD SHARK (POWER CLASS)

The Japanese Road Shark eats up the competition and anything else in its path, but like most Power class cars, it gets a little wild in winding alleys.

75% Max. Speed
70% Accel
75% Handling

PORTABELLO (POWER CLASS)

This stunning English beauty possesses a breathtaking balance of speed, acceleration and handling. It's the fastest of all of the Power class cars in the game.

100% Max. Speed
72.5% Accel
75% Handling

STREET EAGLE (SUPER POWER CLASS)

The ultimate combination of sass and class, nothing flies like the Street Eagle. This car possesses enough top speed to rocket off jumps and grab high items without a Nitro boost.

80% Max. Speed
75% Accel
80% Handling

BLACK WIDOW (SUPER POWER CLASS)

Proudly made in the USA, this four-wheeled powerhouse has the best top speed, acceleration and handling in the game. Own it and you'll win it all.

TIPS

1. Weaving through traffic is usually much faster then trying to plow other cars out of the way.

2. Barely clipping another car will acclimate the same points as hitting it head on and allow you to keep more control.

3. Using the hand-brake will allow you to sharper turns than normally possible and maintain a higher speed. It does however take time to perfect.

4. Tapping the brake shortly before using the hand-brake will result in quicker and tighter turns.

5. Driving in reverse can get you out of sticky situations. However, it is much harder to control the car when driving in reverse.

6. Breakable objects only award points the first time you crash into them.

7. Driving off-road won't reduce your speed, but can present you with much more obstacles than the open road.

8. The radar can be used to find coins that you can't immediately see, as well as those that are hidden.

9. If a stage is too hard then try taking a different route. There are usually one or two ways of completing a level that are much easier than the rest.

10. Remember that small roads may not always be on the map.

11. Try to get the continue in every level because you might need it later in the game.

12. With the sudden burst of speed that nitro provide also comes the possibility of a loss of control.

13. Tokens aren't always on the same level as the car you're driving. Some are only accessible from bridges above or tunnels below.

14. Just because aliens are super-intelligent beings from another planet it doesn't mean they're good drivers.
